

We are trusted by many Property Investor Groups to provide Handover Inspection reports for new houses, units, apartments, townhouses, duplexes & unit blocks.

We provide customised administration procedures to ensure service delivery is smooth and all parties are kept in the loop from practical completion to settlement.

This is an example of the level of service we provide for one of our Property Investor Groups to help ensure there is clear communication between parties.

- Group informs client about BuildingPro as the preferred supplier to be used for Handover inspections (BuildingPro brochure included in their hand over pack);
- Group emails BuildingPro outlining that BuildingPro's information has been sent to the Client and will list all known contact details of client, along with contact details of the Builder and approximate building completion date.
- The Builder advises BuildingPro when the building is close to inspection to request a date for the inspection (1 week in advance);
- BuildingPro schedules the inspection and informs the Client via email (cc Group & Builder) the date of the inspection;
- Handover Inspection carried out by BuildingPro;
- The report is emailed to the Client within 24 hours after the inspection (cc Group & Builder);
- Builder contacts BuildingPro when ready for the re-inspection;

- BuildingPro schedules the inspection and informs the Client via email (cc Group & Builder) of the date of the re-inspection;
- The re-inspection is carried out by BuildingPro;
- The result of the re-inspection is emailed to the Client (cc Group & Builder);
- If any further defects require attention, Builder will rectify and will email BuildingPro photos of the rectified defects;
- BuildingPro views the photos and, if satisfied, informs the Client via email (cc Group & Builder) that the photos show the defects have been rectified.

Using BuildingPro to independently verify building quality is of great reassurance to your clients and enhances your reputation.
